

In 1979, Lertrak Srikitjakarn graduated Doctor of Veterinary Medicine from the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Chulalongkorn University, Thailand. After graduation, he started work as a veterinarian in a world bank supported project aiming to increase cattle production, then 8 years as a field veterinary investigator in Epidemiology section of Thai-German, Regional Veterinary Diagnostic Centre in northeastern Thailand. In 1986 he completed the Dr.med.vet study, on Helminthosis and Fasciolosis control in Buffalo population in northeastern Thailand, at Free University Berlin, Germany. After resignation from government position, he run a private mix practice in dairy production area of Chiangmai for 10 years and become a lecturer of Division of Veterinary Public Health after joined the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Chiang Mai University and also Acting Associate Dean of Planning and Research in 1995. In 2003 he was a founder director of Regional Centre for Veterinary Public Health. His research interests are zoonoses control and VPH system.

Dr. Lertrak Srikitjakarn is currently dean of Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Chiang Mai University since 2006.

LERTRAK
SRIKITJAKARN

Dean
Faculty of Veterinary Medicine

*Chiang Mai University
Thailand*